SAMPLE ASSIGNMENTS

(Assignments should be directly related to the objectives of the course. They should be specific enough to provide real guidance to faculty and clear expectations for students. Descriptions of the type or examples of assignments are required. For example, rather than “term paper” state “term paper comparing and contrasting the social aspects of hunting tactics of two mammal species.” This section must establish that the work is demanding enough in rigor and independence to fulfill the credit level specified. The nature of the assignments must clearly demand critical thinking. Assignments should be adequate to assure that students who successfully complete them can meet the objectives of the course. Appropriate out-of-class work is required for credit courses.)

1. Listen to a recording of a faculty lecture on an academic topic. Take accurate notes on key points, including details.
2. Using the workplace situation provided, role-play a conversation with a supervisor.
3. Read the career-related document provided. Find the errors in capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar. Correct the errors.
4. Write a multi-paragraph composition describing a career field of interest.
